

The Best of Both Worlds

Combining over 50 years of publishing for schools with the expertise of a specialist English Language teaching Publisher – discover why Santillana and Richmond make the best providers of CLIL material for your classroom.

Experience

Market leader Santillana has been creating educational material for all school subject areas for over 50 years, supporting teachers through educational reforms and adapting to the continual changes in teaching trends and methodology. Richmond, an innovative, forward-thinking publishing house with offices in UK and Spain, specializes in English Language teaching and learning products and services. From Spain's first CLIL series to today's extensive catalogue of courses and resources, Richmond and Santillana work together to bring you the best for your CLIL classroom.

Digital Teaching

Richmond and Santillana understand the speed at which digital teaching is evolving and aim to offer solutions for use across a variety of situations. From materials for teachers and schools taking their first steps into the digital world to more sophisticated products and services, we offer a range of digital solutions to suit your needs.

That's why at Richmond and Santillana we like to say, "Think about how you like to teach, and we'll help you find the digital materials that suit your teaching style".